

Joan Clark

Professional in Aromatic Expression

785.550.9563, joan@joanclark.com, www.joanclark.com

Services Offered:

Educational Training

Since 1986 Joan Clark has been teaching, creating and developing educational training, workshops and programs in the field of aromatherapy and lifestyle training.

She has travelled around the United States and abroad teaching the concepts of aromatherapy, product development, blending, natural perfumery, and health care products. Joan has provided numerous consultations for corporate and private enterprises for the purpose of creating and marketing fragrances, perfumes, health care products and applications.

She has developed a curriculum of classes which can be customized for small or large groups on a variety of different topics.

Essential Oil Supplies

Joan Clark's Palais Aromaetica maintains relationships with a variety of international sources for essential oils and carriers. Our goal is to provide our customers with the finest quality essential oils found anywhere around the globe. This includes exotic and rare scents for perfumery under Joan Clark's Palais Aromaetica ("house of all things aromatic").

These essential oils and carriers are known for being organic, wildcrafted scents that represent the best of what nature has to offer. All together we have more than 350 essential oils, including absolutes and carriers.

Product Development

Joan specializes in the development of innovative products for the marketplace. As a pioneer in the aromatics industry she has formulated and designed leading-edge products for not only her own line but other companies and individuals as well.

Signature Fragrances

Joan's reputation has been built on her ability to design and develop signature fragrances. She specializes in creating natural scents infused with creativity and sensitivity, bringing them to the marketplace, surpassing her clients' needs and desires.

Private Labeling

Aromatic expression and creativity is the essence of her work. From the corporate world and executive blending, to personalized perfumes, bath and body, and personal indulgences, her commitment is to offer the most unique expression of creativity to clients in the area of fragrance development.

Individual and Private Consultations

The ultimate in pampering is to indulge in a one-on-one consultation with Joan where customized products according suiting your life style and personal preferences can be created.

Formulation Fees

Please call for quote.

Please Note: Formulas remain the confidential property of Joan Clark's Palais Aromaetica.

Payment Terms

A 50% deposit upon placement of creation is due and the balance is due on receipt of product.