DAY ONE - TUESDAY, SEPT. 15 - KILMARTIN GLEN/ISLE OF IONA

8.00am Morning departure from Glasgow as we journey to Kilmartin Glen-- an area of mystical beauty in Argyle. Kilmartin Glen features one of the largest concentrations of Neolithic and Bronze Age remains in Scotland. There are over 350 ancient monuments within just a six mile radius of the village-- standing stones, a henge monument, featuring five burial cairns with cup and ring marks on them, and more. We visit Temple Wood Stone Circles, Cairn and Standing Stones. Discover the power and beauty of our ancient past. Afternoon ferry from Oban to Mull/Iona. Overnight on Iona for 3 nights (B&D).

DAYS TWO/THREE/FOUR - WED-FRI, SEPT. 16/17/18 - ISLE OF IONA

Iona was a Sacred Isle to the Druids in ancient times and also for the Culdees and Celtic Christians who came here. This Holy Isle's historical fame has resulted from the Christian mission of the Irish Saint Columba who came to Iona during the 6th century A.D. We will explore Iona Abbey, St Martinus Cross, St Oran's Chapel, the Royal Burial Grounds of Kings and the ruins of the Iona Nunnery. We will experience a water ceremony at the Well of Eternal Youth, sacred ceremony, meditation and the vortex energy of the island, opening ourselves up to this ancient land as we attune ourselves to this sacred land.

Iona Abbey

A visit to the Isle of Staffa and free time to explore on your own. Whilst on Iona breakfast and dinner are included each day, lunch will be taken independently. Overnight on Iona. (B&D)

This morning we depart Iona by ferry for Fort William. (B&D)

DAYS TEN & ELEVEN - THURS-FRI, SEPTEMBER 24-25 - FORTINGALL/GLENLYON

Today we experience Fortingall, in the very heart of Scotland, and steeped in Celtic myth and legend. Central to the area is Glenlyon which is 32 miles long, the longest and one of the most beautiful and dramatic glens in Scotland. You experience many sacred sites all within a 20 mile radius of Glenlyon:

* We will travel to Fortingall Church and also see the famous Fortingall Yew Tree, said to be the oldest tree in Europe, believed to be about 5,000 years old. Less known, is an intriguing oral tradition that Pontius Pilate was born in the hamlet of Fortingall. * Dunkeld Cathedral, the original monastery at Dunkeld dates from the sixth century, founded by Saint Columba. There is a belief that some undiscovered relics of Saint Columba are still buried at the cathedral. * The Croft Moraig (Field of Mary) megalithic stone circle, believed to date from around 3000BC. * The holy mountain-- Schiehallion-- which translates from the gaelic as "the Fairy Hill of the Caledonians". Strange tales are told about this awe inspiring mountain of quartz crystal. * The St. Mary's Grail Chapel with a remarkable heraldic mural painted on its barrel roof ceiling which displays amazing and unique hidden symbolism. Over night in Pitlochry on the 24th. In the late afternoon of the 25th we journey through scenic and dramatic landscapes to Edinburgh where we will overnight in our hotel on the 25th. (B&D)

PILGRIMAGE (poem by David Bartholomew)

[This is a pilgrimage, not a tour: a spiritual journey with group ceremonies and connecting exercises at various sites along the way.]

From the womb, from beyond the womb, from out of time, we set off each lifetime as pilgrims.

We contract to experience. That is all.

Pain/pleasure, happy/sad, None higher, none lower. Just experience.

In the name of teaching ourselves, and being taught... compassion.

We sign on for the limitation, restriction, forgetting, of the finite, each time working our way back... now in, and over, time... back to glimpses of more and more of-- the limitless, unrestricted, all-knowing... infinite.

At times we make a statement to the Universe-- I am ready for a bit more, I am getting more serious in my study. I hereby give this agreed upon signal that I am ready to divest myself from "the stuff" of who I fool myself into thinking that I am.

Now (within the parentheses of the pilgrimage that is my life) I take on-- a quest, a test, a journey. Now I consent to put it all on the table, all on the line. Here I stand naked before Creation. Here I offer myself up for dismemberment and re-birth-- trusting the Universe to support only that which is for my highest good in the moment and moving forward, and to release that which no longer serves.

I pray to remain mindful, conscious, open, to not lose my place, or slip back into old conversations. I invoke all of my divinity, reclaim all of my power, call in all needed support, all in the name of walking the path of this pilgrimage most humbly, in unlimited-- gratitude, appreciation, openness and joy.

Feeling into the journey in this manner I offer up each gently and carefully placed, mindful step-upon-step, each sacred breath, each beat of my ever-expanding heart, in gratitude to the path so lovingly prepared just for me.

Thankful. Pilgrim.
